Blaze Wipes Out Parker's and Jacobs' With Restaurant and Twelve Offices—Insurance Is About 75 Per Cent. Of Loss, Which May Reach $100,000—Firemen Successful In Holding Blaze—Y. W. C. A. Ruined by Heat and Smoke.

A fire which between the hours of 5:30 and 7 o'clock a. m., swept the three-story Miller Building on Main street, did damage estimated now at between $75,000 and $100,000, virtually gutting the building and rendering it untenable a little more than a year after it had been completed. The real estate firm which is agent for the building believes that the loss is about 75 per cent. covered, although the insurance on the building itself is little more than 50 per cent. Dr. E. H. Miller is the owner. It was said this morning that the structure will be rebuilt as soon as practicable and will this time be rendered absolutely fireproof.

The fire gained an amazing hold on the building in a short time but even with this, the city firemen who made a prompt response to alarm No. 17, succeeded after an hour's hard battle in confining the flames to the first and second floors. Fire burned through two places on the third story, that occupied by the Young Women's Christian Association and while the structural damage here is comparatively small the head generated by the raging fire below and the smoke ruined everything that was on the floor including the attractive furnishings of the 'Y'. The contractor who put up the Miller Building, W. King Anderson, said today that the damage was so severe that it meant the virtual rebuilding of the interior from the ground floor up.

Those who are burned out by the fire or so damaged by smoke and water that there loss is similar to that by the flames are:

Crystal Cafe, basement, Harris Monos, proprietor.

J. F. Parker, bookstore.

Jacob's Drug Store, J. F. Pruitt, proprietor.

Dr. H. G. Dudley, dentist.

John W. Carter and Hugh T. Williams, lawyers.

According to Fire Chief L. P. Mitchell, who with the fire fighting force was credited today with an excellent example of efficient firefighting, expressed the belief that the fire started after a fight of steps leading to the basement storage of Jacobs Drug Store. Over this fight of steps by the street car company, but there are more jitneys on the streets. The latter are being taxed to capacity, but the riders on the street cars are few and far between. Five cars seen in the business section of the city this morning had a total of six passengers. There has been no friction and nothing looking to violence. The street car men are counseling their friends to remain quiet and to offer no excuse for any sort of resort to violence. Yesterday afternoon colored men were supplied with jitneys and they began operations for the benefit of the colored passengers and are well patronized. The reason that operators in Petersburg quit their posts last night is incorrect but this has not been confirmed.

Wilson Foundation Head Tells What Move Stands For

By CLEVELAND H. DODGE, Chairman, Executive Committee, Woodrow Wilson Foundation

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Are we idealists?

This question has taken hold of the imagination of Americans and it is to be feared that sometimes the too hasty observer has seemed to see the sunset of idealism and the dawn of practicalism.

Yet both opinions are wide of the truth. Ideals may have been different among parties, but they have been ideals.

Who shall say that an association of nations is different from a league? And who shall say that the aims of the present conference on the limitation of armaments are different from those of Mr. Wilson, who demanded that a condition of world peace be "adequate guarantees that national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety?"

It is only when time is plentiful that men will stop in the midst of a task and ask "Are we idealists?"

They did not propose the question during the war, when they were grateful when the ideal for which they fought had its expression in the word "democracy."

Yet there was no need of a name. We were fighting for an ideal, whether or not our vocabulary restricted our ability to express it. This we can never doubt.

And now, though the heat of political strife has often scorched all in its trail, idealism is no more dead than is truth or love or daylight. The idealism of today is the idealism of yesterday, the idealism of the emancipation proclamation and of the Declaration of Independence.

Nor is this idealism of a different quality as the product of Republicanism than it was when it emanated from the mind of a Democratic president.

It is to recognize the great principles of that great idealist, Woodrow Wilson—that the foundation in his honor is soon to be established through an endowment that will be created by public subscription.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation, through its campaign will give to the friends of the broad idealism which Mr. Wilson voiced, the opportunity to establish a fund that may for all time be maintained intact, having its income devoted to the reward of those who have done what Mr. Wilson himself has done—rendered meritorious service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought, and peace through justice.

In order that there may be definite assurance that the purposes of the foundation will be viewed with the proper vision in years to come it has been decided that the trustees shall be 15 in number and shall be selected as nearly as possible from all sections of the country.

The trustees are to disburse the income of the endowment annually to the Jury of Awards composed of 25 members serving for a normal term of nine years.

Lee-Jackson-Maury Day Is Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Thursday, January 19, is Lee-Jackson-Maury Day, a date set apart by the General Assembly of Virginia in honor of those three great Virginians two of them soldiers and the other a naval officer and eminent statesman. Lee, Jackson and Maury were the anniversary of the birth of Maury, tomorrow that of the incomparable Lee and next Saturday that of Jackson, great strategist and soldier.

The Anne Eliza Johns and Danville chapters, United Daughters of the Confederacy, have arranged for a fitting commemoration of the day with a programme of appropriate exercises at the Memorial Mansion on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in which they especially invite the presence and participation of all Confederate veterans and the Confederate Memorial Association, the Sons of Confederate Veterans and clergy of the city.

The program announced for the occasion is herewith published: Prayer, Rev. C. L. Garrison. Violin selection, the Misses Con-

Reading, Mrs. John G. Wither. Duett, Miss Sara E. Harrison and Mr. Kennedy. Address, Rev. Cleveland Hall, D. D.

In this connection it may be said that it is proposed hereafter to have these celebrations in the Rialto Park auditorium, where larger audiences may be comfortably provided for. The incident that the birthday anniversary of these three eminent men all fall within eight days made the tribute tribute to them peculiarly apt and interesting.

Beaten With Wire Whip, Child Charges

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Accused of beating his nine-year-old daughter, Josephine, with a braided wire whip, Alexander Roman, of Bayonne, N. J., was held in $2,500 bail by Recorder Cain yesterday to trial on charges of assault and battery.

"Jail is too good for man like you," said the recorder. "I regret we do not have whipping posts."

The girl testified that her father returned to their home, No. 10 East 22nd street, intoxicated, Sunday night, and began to strike her sister, only twenty months old, and a brother, seven years old, with the whip. She interferred and was lashed on the back with the whip.

She finally managed to get away from her father and ran to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Anna Roman, who called for the police. The mother is in an institution for treatment for tuberculosis and the three children will be cared for in county institutions.

Y.W.C.A. Will Carry On Its Activities

Accepts Offer of Y. M. C. A. to Occupy Second Floor—"Y" Auditorium Now Its Headquarters.

The fire in the Miller building, which this morning ruined all of the furniture and equipment on the top floor rented by the Young Women's Christian Association will not impede the association's activities.

Miss Caroline Arhus, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. stated this morning that the Y. M. C. A. through its secretary, Edwin Keltus, had proffered the "homeless" organization the use of the second story of the building and Y. W. quarters will be established during the course of today in the old auditorium.

The Bible Class which was to have been held tonight will meet at the Y. M. C. A. and the midweek class which was to have opened tomorrow will be held in the new temporary quarters.

Miss Arhus said that the fire would not interfere with the club's activities and that the organization was determined to carry on as best it can. It will also not interfere with the $10,000 campaign to be carried on later in the month.

The Y. W. C. A. is well insured, it is learned this afternoon, but it will be some time before it can secure new equipment. None of that is the fire-ridden building can be touched until the insurance adjusters have come here and looked it over. While the floor was burned through only in places it was patent to anyone visiting the premises today that the equipment cannot be used again. The reception room furniture is stained and warped with the heat. All of the draperies are discolored in fact all of the property is beyond use, the carpets being discolored. The office furniture did not escape but the files are intact. These have been kept in fireproof cabinets. It is probably that the 'Y' will have to move out as under what it was weakened by the fire.

This morning an asphyxiated mouse was found on the parlor floor, showing the potency of the fumes and the heat.

G. O. P. In Ninth Are Alarmed

BRISTOL, Va., Jan. 15.—Charles S. Pendleton, Republican Ninth district chairman, has issued a call for the district committee to meet at Bristol next Saturday, Jan. 21, at the Hotel Bristol. Congressman C. B. Slomp, the notification says, "is expected to be present at the meeting."

It has been no secret here for weeks that the Republicans in the district go a step further than being interested in the governorship of the State by the Democrats. They are alarmed, although no mention of the governorship was made in the letters sent out by Mr. Pendleton. It is understood that the redistributing program will be one of the chief topics to be taken up at the meeting. It is also reported that Congressman Slomp is expected to be present. He has announced definitely to his constituents that he will be present.

Fear that the Democrats will reduce the district through the governorship race is expected by some political leaders. It is expected that the Republicans will be successful in securing a Republican governor in the next election. A declaration of lead on Republicanism from the North district will be made in the future to urge Slomp for the gubernatorial post. It will be arranged with the president of the district that the Republicans will be arranged to meet in Washington more during the next two years than in any other place.

In the meeting last Saturday evening in the district committee headquarters, the district committee was organized. The district committee is a will be informal in character.

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—adv.

MAN INJURED IN CAR WRECK THINKS HE WAS IN A FIGHT

Auto Runs Into Street Car At Park Avenue and Main.

Two men, giving their names as J. C. Major, of Gladstone, and DeWitt Farlines, of near Chatham, were slightly injured last night shortly after 9 o'clock, when the machine in which they were riding, and a street car collided at the corner of West Main street and Park avenue. The Chevrolet automobile was practically demolished and Farlines was pinned beneath it while Major, when found, was crawling on the ground close by. Seeing that both men were injured, Schoolfield police officers placed them under arrest and brought them to the police station in Danville. A search of the two men by local officers was made and Farlines was found to have a pistol in his pocket also a blackjack. The old saying "that you can't kill a drunk man" appeared to run true to form last night, for neither of the two men was seriously hurt, although the car in which they were riding was torn up mightily, and ordinarily a death might have been the result.

The street car, operated by Motorman Frank M. Kegley, with W. T. Hines, conductor, was approaching Danville from Schoolfield. The car was drifting down the grade when it reached Park avenue, the motorman being careful to drive slowly owing to the slippery condition of the rails. The Chevrolet, driven by Major, was coming out of Park avenue and did not check up. It struck the street car from the front end of the car. The momentum of the street car carried the automobile several feet while it was across the track, but finally the wheels gave way and the auto partly turned over. Major and Farlines were extricated from the wreckage, but it was soon learned that they were not badly injured.

Those who happened to be at police headquarters last night were furnished plenty of fun after the men were brought in by the Schoolfield officers. After each was relieved of his belongings they began to question as to how they were cut up in such a manner, especially Farlines. Both were intoxicated and although Major kept quiet, Farlines insisted that some explanation be given as to how he managed to get in such a condition. His mind seems to have been blank as to what took place. He did not even know that another man was with him, Major being in the adjoining room. When he was taken to where Major was seated, he at once wanted to know who that was and what he was doing all scared up. Farlines then had no knowledge of the condition of his own face, which was then streaming with blood. He was then apprised that his own face was in such a manner, and was handed a mirror to view himself. Apparently knowing nothing of an accident, he concluded that he and the other man had been in a fight. In fact he asked him, "What in the hell did you mean by beating me up like this?" The conversation which then ensued was amusing. Farlines apparently did not remember anything that had happened since the two left Axton yesterday afternoon, while Major, who was less intoxicated, seemed to know more of what took place. He remembered leaving Axton and taking on Farlines as a passenger to bring him to Danville. When they got drunk or where they got their whisky was not made known.

Perhaps the case will be further gone into and fully cleared in court this morning, when Farlines must answer the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Why Women Get Despondent

Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave and hopeful as men? Yes, certainly; but a woman's organism is essentially different from a man's—more delicate, more sensitive and more exacting. Women in delicate health are more dependent, more nervous, more irritable and more despondent. When a woman develops nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness, dragging down pains and melancholia, she should lose no time in giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial, as it will quickly dispel such troubles. This root and herb medicine contains no drugs and has been the standby of American womanhood for nearly fifty years.—adv.

CHANGES IN CITY CHARTER BROACHED BY CITY COUNCIL

City Attorney and City Tax Collector Elected By Council.

At the regular monthly meeting of the City Council, held last night, the first step was taken toward legislation in the General Assembly. The council, all nine members of which were present, voted unanimously by endorsing certain changes to the city's charter and Representative Joseph B. Anderson was requested in a resolution to draft a bill making the changes sought. Under the terms of this series of amendments to the city's charter, the city attorney and the city tax collector would be elective by the people as at present; the city's right to borrow money on temporary loans would be increased from $75,000 to $100,000; the City Council would be authorized on its own initiative to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 for revenue producing purposes (such as improvements to the municipal plants); and the financing capacity would be increased from $50 to $100.

Just how long this local legislation had been planned is not known but last night is the first time that any of the amendments had been brought out at a meeting of the council. The amendments were considered and, none raised any objection and the endorsement was unanimous. Major Anderson upon receipt of the resolution from the Danville council will have the bill drafted and it is likely that it will be passed at the General Assembly, which is guided by the attitude of the members from the locality affected.

This is the first time the city's charter has been amended since 1914, when the Hon. Berryman Green, then Danville's representative in the House, made the city superintendent of public works, the city attorney elective by the people.

Last night's meeting of the city fathers was one of the most important held recently. Despite the fact that the session was not a long one and the budget was quickly disposed of.

The finance committee report presented by Strathmore Owens included the usual financial sheet showing the status of the city's monetary affairs. It presented a recommendation for an increase in the salary to the city treasurer, George P. Geoghegan. This is not a flat increase. It has been the custom of the treasurer to charge the city a commission for the disbursement of funds. These commissions, which amounted to $1,600 last year, the treasurer proposed that if the council would increase his salary from $1,500 to $2,000, per annum and pay the premium on the bond required of him, he would release his claim on all fees and commissions. The right of treasurers to make such a proposition is recognized by the state auditor and the members of the council after hearing this explanation granted unanimously. The finance committee report included a recommendation to appropriate $197.10 for the 28 city departments for the next quarter. This lies over until the next meeting.

Incorporated also in this report was the recommendation that the city's charter be changed so as to include the amendments cited above.

One of the most important matters taken up and disposed of last night was the adoption of the license tax ordinance for the year 1922-23. These were comparatively few changes in this. One of the amendments adopted, however, is of vital importance to the city merchants. Under its terms every merchant in Danville who makes a purchase annually over $1,000 is required to appear in person between the first and the tenth day of April and October in the office of the commissioner of the revenue and to make his returns. These returns are to be made in a book provided for the purpose. If a merchant fails to make his returns, a penalty is levied. In order to make the law more circumspect, in a good many instances in the past few years, some of the merchants have delayed making their returns, delaying the work in the office of the commissioner of the revenue. One of the amendments included the levying of a license tax of $150 per diem on itinerant vendors. This refers especially to individuals who bring a load of certain commodities and sell them at the railway station to the disadvantage of local merchants, compelled to pay the taxes and licenses. Carriers must pay the city $50 per diem unless they remain here a week when the license of $250 for the six days is levied. Butchers are required to pay not only the $20 day license but also a purchase tax of 5 cents per hundred dollars. The license tax on all buyers but instead of paying 19 cents per $100 of raw leaf purchased, the tax is made five cents per $100.

At the request of the city police commission the council last night made provision for a third police sergeant, changing the city ordinance so as to permit this and making an appropriation to cover the extra salary.

Another important matter brought up last night was incorporated in the Public Works Committee report presented by W. E. Gardner. The recommendation was made to appropriate $12,500 for a new thousand gallon capacity motor fire engine. Mr. Gardner said that this matter had been long delayed but the committee felt that the time had come when it was imperative to increase the city's fire fighting equipment. Under the rules governing the council it was referred to the finance committee and it will be acted upon at the next meeting.

Mr. Gardner presented a full list of the streets which are proposed to be repaved during the present year under the terms of the bond issue.

Concrete bridge on the north side of Park street, asphaltic concrete, cost $2,250.00.

Gravel street, from Main street, near the Southern Railway, full width, with durum blocks, at a cost of $55,250.00.

Paxton street, from Paxton to Five Forks, full width, with sheet asphalt on cobble, at a cost of $3,091.25. An unexpended balance to the credit of the Street Improvement amounting to $16,505.37. To complete the program there will be required an additional appropriation of $159,033.53.

The committee also recommended that $25,541 be appropriated to pave both Virginia Avenue and Vermont Avenue with hard surface, this money to be drawn from the general fund.

Councilman Waynes Harrison, while not opposing the improving of these streets, contended that they were comparatively new and that there were others in the city that should take precedence. He urged that Claiborne street be paved because of its importance as a street over which there is a good deal of heavy hauling. Mr. Gardner in reply, said that it was practically certain that funds would be supplied to do this work.

The Public Works committee reported the appointment of a dairy inspector at a salary of $125 per month.

There was no mention made of the proposed $100,000 improvement at the electric light plant. If, however, amendments to the city charter pass, it will be possible for the council to issue bonds for this amount making it possible to have the work done without making any immediate severe demands on the treasury.

Under the roll call Mr. Conway suggested that it would be a good plan for the city council to hold a meeting in March for the sole purpose of discussing the city's budget for the fiscal year, beginning May 1. This suggestion was considered a good one and the chairman of the finance committee heartily concurred.

Before the meeting got under way Judge E. Walton Brown appeared in behalf of Mrs. Jennie Scrogges, a woman 79 years of age, who will be an invalid the rest of her life as result of an accident in which she fell into a hole in North Danville. The health department was engaged in certain repairs at the time and while it was clearly shown that the woman was hurt through the negligence of the city, it was held in court that the city was not liable. The woman was described as being in serious straits as result of the mishap and an appeal was made for her. The public welfare committee was authorized to take temporary relief, investigate the case and make a report as to the financial settlement at the next meeting.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN

That the Danville engagement of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" will prove to be a revelation in other cities where the picture is being shown is evidenced by the unusual interest that is being shown in the brief time it has been announced.

No book in recent years has met with the favor and widespread popularity as has the immortal work of Dantes. It has been translated into every known language and been read by every civilized nation on earth. Its sales have run into many millions and with the exception of the Bible it is the most widely read book in the world today. The success of this picture has been no less pronounced. It has crowded the largest theatres in the country and filled prolonged engagements at prices that have never been known for a like entertainment.

Its very greatness as a spectacle has thrilled and delighted, and the symbolic beauty of its presentation has charmed as has no other picture that has ever been shown before. It has been endorsed by the highest authorities, as having reached a plane that places it supreme among all motion picture endeavors. The music score which was specially written by Ernst Luz of New York is said to be unusually impressive and in keeping with the rest of the artistic worth of the presentation. The engagement at the Majestic opens Monday night and continues for three days with matinee Tuesday and Wednesday.

Patrolman Slain By Another Cop

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Policeman Frank Brojer was shot and killed last night by Policeman James J. O'Connell on a dark stairway of No. 759 Columbus Avenue, near 98th street. O'Connell reported that, responding to the alarm of a police whistle blown from a window of the Columbus Avenue flat house, he had entered and started up the stairs. Half way to the second floor, he said, he met a man who did not know, who was coming down with a revolver in his hand. "Halt," was Policeman O'Connell's command, but no attention was paid to it, he reported. "The other man," he said, pointed this revolver at O'Connell and twice pulled the trigger before O'Connell knocked it from his hand, drew his own pistol and shot him.

Dr. Martin, who came with an ambulance from Knickerbocker Hospital, said the man had been instantly killed by a bullet wound in the head. It was not until detectives arrived that the dead man was identified as Policeman Frank Brojer, of No. 671 Caldwell Avenue, Bronx, who was transferred a month ago from the West 100th street to the Alexander Avenue station in the Bronx.

Judge Moore Tells Of World Court

JOHN BASSETT MOORE

By EDWARD THIERRY

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—There is at least one man indispensable to Uncle Sam.

Every time Uncle Sam goes in a pickle he presses a button and says "Boy, page John Bassett Moore." And John Bassett Moore, who has been commuting between New York and Washington more than 30 years, hurries down and unravels the latest international tangle.

That's his job. He's a sort of legal family physician to Uncle Sam. Dr. Moore's newest job is serving as one of 11 judges on the permanent court of international justice, the world court created by the League of Nations. He will sit at its organization at The Hague Jan. 30.

Official Washington probably would be greatly worried were it not that Moore will be back within a couple of months. His tenure of office as world judge is nine years, but he will not be at The Hague all the time.

U. S. Still Can Use Him.

This will make it possible for Uncle Sam to call on him for expert advice now and then.

Dr. Moore has served under six presidents, Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson.

He started off as a law clerk in the Department of State in 1885 and from 1888 to 1891 was third assistant secretary of state.

In 1891 he became professor of international law and diplomacy at Columbia University, but he has had so many leaves of absence so he could not straighten out the State Department that lots of students went through Columbia law school without encountering him.

McKinley made him an assistant secretary of state in 1898 and then sent him to Paris as counsel for the Spanish-American Peace Commission.

In between he was a United States delegate to all kinds of international meetings and boards of arbitration. And in 1917 President Wilson made him a counselor of the State Department.

Man Behind Throne.

Official Washington whispered that Moore and most of the work of the department.

Anyways, president was upset two ways for during Britain's absence from Washington. Counselor Moore, instead of the first assistant, was acting secretary of state and he frequently sat in cabinet meetings.

Moore is 61 years old. He is a big man physically. He wears a mustache and a full beard neatly trimmed. Sort of half-way between a howling beard and a Van Dyke. His hair is thin on top of his head. He wears eyeglasses.

He was born in Delaware and is a graduate of the University of Virginia. He is married and has three daughters.

Colleges Honor Him.

So many degrees have been conferred upon him and he has been a member of so many international bodies and has written so many books that it requires two-thirds of a column in Whos Who to describe him.

He is still a member of the Permanent Court of The Hague having been appointed in 1913 and has been a leading figure in the Pan-American Union.

Ponderous tomes are to his credit, a whole shelf of volumes on international law, arbitration and diplomacy.

In spite of these heavy subjects the Moore has the knack of making friends rapidly and his remarkable memory is not so cluttered with international facts and dates that he cannot remember funny stories and anecdotes.

Kills His Wife, Daughter and Son; Coolly Shows Axe

CHARLESTON, Ill., Jan. 17.—Bodies of his wife, son and daughter, and the axe with which he said he had killed them were coolly exhibited to the sheriff by M. F. Monroey, today, after Monroey had surrendered, saying, "I was worried about my family."

"I killed them while they slept," Monroey said.

"Then I went to the barn and tried to hang myself with this window cord, but the knot was too tight and wouldn't stick, so I went to hunt you."

EFFORTS TO END STRIKE FAILED

Men Have Not Been Imported to Break Strike Say Officials.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 17.—Thomas S. Wheelwright, president of the Virginia Railway and Power company, denied here tonight that men had been imported to break the strike of conductors and motormen on the company's street car lines in Richmond, Norfolk and Portsmouth. Statements of union leaders here today were that men had been imported from New York and were quartered at the power company's Y. M. C. A. building.

Both company officials and labor leaders here reported "satisfactory progress" in the situation today in all cities affected by the walkout. Union leaders here claimed that some motormen and conductors at Petersburg had joined the ranks of the strikers and that all services over the company's lines in that city would cease at midnight, but this was denied by the union officials at Petersburg tonight. The Petersburg labor leaders said that cars in that city were being run on regular schedule and that the men would remain at work.

Eighteen cars was operated in Richmond today, company officials stated, while at Norfolk it was said 100 men were at work, as compared with a normal force of 300. No car was operated at Portsmouth today, union leaders stated.

Automobile buses are being used in the three cities affected by the strike to get residents to and from their homes. Municipal and commercial and civic organizations in these places are seeking to settle the controversy by mediation, but so far their efforts along these lines have met with no success.

Testimony Begun at Second Trial of Roscoe Arbuckle

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Taking of testimony in the second manslaughter trial of Roscoe Arbuckle got well under way here today, three witnesses being examined at the single session of the court held. Leo Friedman, assistant district attorney, made the opening statement for the prosecution, outlining evidence which he hoped to prove that Miss Virginia Rappé died of injuries received at Arbuckle's hands at a party he gave in his rooms in the Hotel St. Francis here last September.

Nothing Known of Geddes Withdrawal

(Special Cable to the Chicago Daily News)

LONDON, England, Jan. 17.—Officials in the foreign British office stated that nothing is known there of the reported impending withdrawal of Ambassador Geddes from Washington. No theory was advanced as to the origin of the report or its purpose. It was first heard of in Downing Street a fortnight ago.

So far as the public knows, the government, like the nation, has no reason to entertain any but the highest opinion of Sir Auckland Geddes, secretary in Washington.

Of all arts, that of working in gold is oldest.

Leather baths are almost daily luxuries in the West Indies.

FARMERS SEEK FOR MEASURES CLEARLY DEFINING RIGHTS

Program Will Be Submitted to National Conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The program which the American Farm Bureau Federation will submit to the National Agricultural conference when it convenes here, will call for early enactment by Congress of law "clearly defining the rights of the farmer to market their products co-operatively." In making this announcement today, the bureau said their economic and legislative proposals would be based upon the plan adopted at the recent annual convention in Atlanta, Ga. At the same time it was stated, information which the department of agriculture is collecting on farm tenancy and other problems will be made available for the delegates.

The Farm Bureau Federation said they would urge the conference to endorse a recommendation that all committees be made so that interests of farmers would be protected.

Relief of the farmers' financial situation will be urged through a plan providing for long-time credits, commodity financing based upon warehouse receipts, personal rural credit secured by proper insurance features and the creation of machinery that will allow co-operative system to obtain money directly.

The transportation policy will suggest immediate reductions in freight rates, all having a special effect to be reflected in further rate reductions until the entire freight rate of August 29, 1920, is wiped out and repeal of the Adamson law enacted.

The conference will also be asked to declare for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law "so as to abrogate the emergency clause" restoring the rates, via the railroad labor board and co-ordinate wage-making powers with the rate-making power of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Among the other things the federation will urge, it was declared, will be "the condemnation of the Pittsburgh-plus principle which adds a fictitious freight rate to the price of coal, and the necessity for the truth in fabric legislation, the need for a law preventing the sale of filtered milk; the adoption of uniform and standard grades of agricultural products and similar proposals aimed at the immediate relief of American agriculture."

R. W. PEATROSS BIBLE CLASS ENJOYS DINNER

The R. W. Peatross Bible class of Main Street Methodist church last night from 7:30 until 10 o'clock enjoyed a dinner and class social at the Danville Golf club house at Stokes land. Despite the unfavorable weather for such an outing a considerable proportion of the active membership of this live, organized men's Bible class made the trip out in motor cars, starting from the Y. M. C. A. the rendezvous for the party. Besides enjoying an excellent menu and the socializing, those present heard some stirring talks from the teacher, officers and members of the class. The whole program was designed to stimulate interest in the class, which is now increasing steadily in membership and attendance, the teaching of Professor Charles G. Evans proving a drawing card.

The outstanding feature of today's proceedings was the submission of the court of a report prepared by three doctors. This report was used at the first trial of Arbuckle, which resulted in a jury disagreement. The doctors, named by Judge Harold Lombard for the purpose, examined organs of Miss Rappé to determine if there was any evidence of weakness in them. The report said there was none and following its reading to the new jury the doctors substantiated it with verbal testimony.

F. X. Latulip, expert of the San Francisco police department who made maps and took photographs of the Arbuckle suite in the hotel, was on the witness stand when court adjourned until tomorrow.

4-Year-Old Boy Charged With Murder

The first picture to reach America showing little Tommy Coleman, aged four, charged with being a murderer. The story told the police by the Coleman family is that Tommy picked up a knife to show how he had seen a murder in the movies and drove the blade into his father's breast. It was the father on his deathbed who first accused Tommy. London police are investigating the case thoroughly, especially statements that Coleman and his wife quarreled frequently. Tommy is shown with his mother and little sister, leaving a police hearing.

NO CHANGES NOTED IN RICHMOND CAR STRIKE YESTERDAY

Men Are Running More Jitters and Officials Obdurate in Stand

RICHMOND, Jan. 12.—The street car strike has shown the following changes today: The company has increased by four the number of cars in operation yesterday and the strikers have increased their fleet of jitneys by about seventy-five for the day; the number of persons riding in the cars is small, but whether due to disapproval of the attitude of the company or apprehension of injury by persons who might not think well of the crews operating the cars is not known; the jitneys and trucks are being well patronized, and the cars which the men are operating without regard to fares, but which will accept a contribution for the support of the men, are making a good thing out of the strike, the money going to the common treasury.

There has been a suggestion made to the council tonight whereby it is proposed to have the city take over the car lines for a year or more, pay the men decent wages, a fair return to the company for its property and in that way determine just what is the basis for the new franchise which the company is now seeking at the hands of the city.

Today there has been no disturbance of any sort, the company and the men apparently getting down to a struggle for supremacy in the matter. The people generally think that there should be arbitration of the issues, but the company says that it will guarantee the revenues to meet the fixed charges of the company. Offers have been received by several strike-breaking firms to supply men.

MILLER BUILDING AGAIN FIRESWEPT

was an electric switch box and from the earliest appearance of the fire it was centralized there with flames leaping out of the rear windows. The short-circuit probably started the fire. It is not known to the firemen that the fire started in the rear of the cafe, as there is virtually no fire damage there, although the water damage is severe, with three feet of water standing on the floor of the cafe. The fire spread to a plaster partition leading to Parker's book store, reaching the storage and where the inflammable material spread the fire both ways and up through a partition between the walls, spreading on the second floor with such rapidity that it was not long before the place was an inferno. One fireman of eighteen years' experience said that it was the hottest fire he had ever encountered, and one which resisted the combined efforts of five streams of water for the longest time.

When the fire started, it first made the person known at 5:30 a. m., Ed Pomeroy, a Register carrier, in possession of the newspaper plant. First came the glow of flames, and with Albie Crews, ran hastily to the alarm box No. 17. Other boys ran over to the fire station to give the alarm. They called a visiting farmer, at the same time, smoke following out from the front.

The alarm brought out every available piece of firefighting apparatus. The Patton street engine arrived first, at which time flames were shooting from the rear window of the Miller building. As the other departments arrived, sawdust was laid and with a few minutes three engine streams and two natural pressure streams were concentrated on the building, two from Main street and three from the rear. One of the rear streams was directed across the floor of the Miller building, which adjoins the business building and from this point the flames were attacked through the windows. Once the door to Jacob's drug store was forced open, a rush of flames, smoke and heat came the nozzle men back across the sidewalk, but they soon recovered, and fought their way back by inch, into the building. Other firemen poured water through the upper windows, carrying a stream upstairs as the flames were brought under. Some of the firemen, braving the danger of being cut off, reached the third story, the floor of which had not been burned through, and with portable extinguishers met the seeping flames wherever they appeared. The roof was not reached by the fire.

The fire alarm brought a number of people downtown and word was quickly sent to those whose cars and stores were being threatened by the flames. It was impossible to save anything in the stores. By seven o'clock the fire was thoroughly controlled, with the drug store little more than a ruin, also the book store exterminated and all the offices, especially to those of the building which adjoins the business building. The Miller building were not destroyed by fire, but the heat ruined the expensive equipment which finds its place in every well established doctor's and dentist's office.

There was general sympathy expressed today for those who suffered by the fire. Particularly is this true of J. F. Parker and J. D. Pruitt. These two firms suffered in the fire of 1920 and for a long time, owing to the shortage of rentals, were compelled to remain out of business at a time when mercantile establishments are doing good business. These two firms had since establishment in the new Miller building rebuilt their clientele and were just beginning to overcome their losses when they are now confronted once more with serious loss. There are few empty stores available now and no matter to what extent they may be covered by policies of insurance, they cannot make good the loss of business between now and the time of their reestablishment. Dr. Dudley is another who was again caught by fire and had equipped his dental parlor with expensive equipment, now ruined.

Commonwealth's Attorney J. W. Carter, who is in Richmond, is a heavy loser. He is said to have had one of the finest law libraries in the city, this being owned by him and his partner, H. T. Williams. The steel filing cases were saved, and it appeared today that the records of his office and of many criminal and civil cases pending are intact. The books, however, have gone. The floor gave way and the bookcases pitched down into the seething caldron of flame below and were consumed.

Carter expressed the belief today that the loss was partially covered by insurance. Howard Rogers' office was literally wiped out, and he has no insurance whatever.

Dr. Patterson's insurance lapsed a few days ago, at which time he told an insurance agent that he lapsed a few days ago, at which time he told an insurance agent that he would carry his own risk for a time at least.

Z. V. Johnson's dry goods store, protected by a brick wall, was not reached by flames. The wall became highly heated, however, and some goods may have been damaged. There will, however, be some damage as water seeped through the basement wall into the stock room, although every effort was being made to get rid of the water as fast as it came in.

There were no personal injuries in the fire, although one or two firemen were cut by glass.

The damage to the building proper will be about $20,000, which is said to be not adequately covered. The Miller building was erected on the site of the old structure, which went up in flames on January 2, 1920. It was completed November 1st, 1929, at a cost of $100,000.

Soon after the building had cooled, those who had offices there were busy seeing what offices could be gotten out. This material, however, was scant in quantity, as there was little worth saving.

The loss to Harris Mones is a heavy one for, although there was no fire in the basement, water in torrents poured through the burnt floors, and the tables and other effects were floating on two or three feet of water in the concrete basement. Mones' office suffered a loss on Lower Main street when his other restaurant was burned. It was said that he is a little insurance.

In order to remove the menace of water pouring down Main street, pipes and drains were run up in the rear of the Miller building and the water was pumped down from the basement.

There will be a meeting of the Danville Study Club at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Pruitt on Main street. Mrs. Pruitt and Mrs. E. B. Pruitt will entertain the club. Each member may invite a guest. The program will include a play by Robert Louis Stevenson by Mrs. H. Frank Mones.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Brown are registered at the Arch Villa, Miami, Florida for the winter.
